ABOUT THE FUTURE OF EUROPE

Comparison of European Political Programs

Treaty Change	We call for an independent, solidarity-based, participatory and democratic re-founding of the EU.	The European Union needs to reform its treaties	EFA welcomes for a convention on changing the EU treaties. We want a reformed EU democracy where the regions and territories have a direct voice.	Reforms of the EU architecture are needed	We want to reform the EU's treaties to make sure citizens feel better involved.	We want to have a European Convention in the coming years to discuss and decide on possible improvements to the Treaties.	No mention	No mention
The necessity of deepening in relation with enlargement	No mention	Welcoming new members must serve as a vital push for internal reforms	No mention	Enlargement must go hand in hand with a serious assessment of what reforms of the EU architecture are needed	Without deep reforms, enlargement risks turning into a failure for all. Extension of competences and thus the possibility of political autonomy for the Union.	We believe that it is the current EU treaties that stand in the way of radical social and ecological transformation and the effective and democratic sovereignty of the people.	At the COFOE, European citizens gave a clear message that they support new treaties giving the EU greater competences. They called for deepened European democracy, with more power for the EP, an end to national vetoes, a larger EU budget, and stronger EU competences on key issues such as health, tax, and social protection. As Greens, we stand behind their proposals.	No mention	We will use the next parliamentary term to strengthen the EU's capacity to act in an enlarged Union, with targeted Treaty changes.	We want to get rid of the vetoes. Reform needs to happen and needs to happen now.	Europe has to become ready to act in foreign policy. We, therefore, advocate for moving away from the unanimity principle in the field of EU sanctions towards totalitarian regimes around the world and of the Single Market for Defence.	Each European nation should have the right to determine its own policies, according to its own needs. The EU should stop interfering in the internal affairs of its Member States.	We believe that, while valuing cooperation among European nations, limiting any undue interference is essential for maintaining the unique cultural and historical identities of our Member States and guaranteeing national sovereignty.
Giving direct powers to the European Parliament and the European Commission under control of the EP	European Parliament must have the right to initiate legislation, to propose laws, to elect the European Commission, to propose and decide on the EU budget and to control the activities of the European Central Bank;	The European Parliament must have the right to propose legislation and equal budgetary power.	The European Parliament must also have the right to initiate legislation. The President of the European Commission must be democratically elected	We need to empower the European Parliament and the European Commission with tools to safeguard our democracy, strengthen our economy, protect our environment and our social model.	We want to increase the efficiency, transparency and accountability of EU institutions. We want to transform the Commission into a proper democratic government, with only one president at the helm of the EU's executive [...] We want to strengthen the role of the European Parliament, so the voices of the citizens resonate even stronger than today.	No mention	The group opposes any attempt to impose a Eurozone budget and direct EU taxes.	No mention
New electoral law approved by the European Parliament	No mention	Transnational lists for the European Parliament should be introduced alongside national lists	No mention	No mention	No mention	No mention	No mention	No mention
